Hello.

Openvz logs a lot of information directly to console. How can we deactivate it or redirect to a file?

I'm redirecting with syslog-ng, but it dumps a lot of messages to syslog without any prefixes like "openvz" or something and it's impossible to classify it. My 'logcheck' service goes crazy.

Thanks in advance.

What exactly do you mean? Kernel, tools, startup scripts?

Kernel... but it's solved, I think so. Unloading the wdog I don't see more dumps for now.

Thanks anyway!
