i was using the VTONF control panel for Openvz, and i click on delete another VPS and VTONF delete my main hosting VPS, all was erased.

but well, i had a backup of one month ago and i restore it. not the same # of node, but all is ok now.

but in case this happen again, there is no way to restore info right? if a node is deleted. or half deleted

Hello,

as far as I understand VTONF is a control panel, so you'd better clarify from its developers what VTONF "delete" button does.

I think that it calls "vzctl destroy". In this case as far as I remember VEs private area is renamed to temporary directory and then "rm -rf" command is invoked.

Hi,

no problem:

/vz/vztmp/vzctl-rm-me.XXXXXXXX, and the value of last characters is determined via mkdtemp call.
