Can someone please explain to me the differences between the OpenVZ veth and venet network devices? I've read over the wiki docs at:

<http://wiki.openvz.org/Veth>

<http://wiki.openvz.org/Venet>

numerous times and they seem to be written pretty badly and just don't make sense, no matter how many times you read them. I'd really like to understand the differences, and which one I should use in particular situations.

Thanks,
Doug.
