I have a suggestion. How about a "lint" command to test/fix containers for compatibility? I don't know how many of you are like me but I run Fedora containers and every release or so they change something the breaks OpenVZ.

I upgrade with Yum

So - most of these things are easily fixed by deleting/modifying a few simple files. It would be nice to have a utility that did that for me so that I could run `vzctl lint <veid>` and it would diagnose/fix the container.
