

---

Subject: Re: OpenVZ and yum service

Posted by rickb on Sun, 20 May 2007 01:51:52 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

okey, whats the output of the yum launched via cron? You can log the output and/or mail it to yourself.

```
yum -y update 2>&1 | mail -s "yum cron output" you@domain.com
```

One thing to check for is if the directory yum live in, is in the cron program's PATH.

Bottom line, we need to see an error message to propose a solution.

---