

---

Subject: Re: Re: [PATCH 4/5] Setup the control group
Posted by Paul Menage on Mon, 01 Oct 2007 15:52:20 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On 10/1/07, Balbir Singh <balbir@linux.vnet.ibm.com> wrote:

> Pavel Emelyanov wrote:

> >> Could we make the user interface similar to the one in the memory > >> controller please! It would make it easier for users to configure > >> and control both.

> >

> > Do you mean by merging the similar code or by making them look like > > the same? If the second, than can you point at least one difference > > except for "usage" vs "usage_in_bytes" (and similar) naming?

> >

>

> I meant similar naming, it makes it is easier if the naming convention > is the same.

>

I agree with this, but I'd rather see standardization on "limit/usage" rather than "limit_in_bytes/usage_in_bytes". Then the same API can be used for subsystems that use resource counters for things that can't be measured in bytes, e.g. number of tasks.

Paul

---