Subject: Is it practical/possible to have openvz with mutiple VEs on a single IP?

The situation is that I'm going to have a system installed where I have only one or two IP addresses but would like to host 6 or so different domains. I can use the tried and true method of using virtual hosts in Apache and proftpd but I'd like to implement this using openvz. Is this possible/practical? If so, how?

Thanks,
Jim.
