Ok, I was done with the Kernel.

So I did what you said. I removed them I did emerge and I got that I miss the Linux-Sources.. So Emerge is going to Build something in the Kernel. That means that I cant run it, since well the kernel is a OpenVZ kernel right?

It doesnt have ANY USE flags. so I cant temper with them.

My exact error was:

get_version || die "Unable to calculate Linux kernel Version"

Before that I saw a error saying something about no config file in the LinuxSources.

Well do you think its going to be easier to try sshfs up now to NFS?

Since I need either..

Cheers,
Robin
