
Subject: Re: /proc/user_beancounters and vzlist giving different outputs

Posted by blunt on Fri, 07 Dec 2007 21:52:24 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

yes I have both calculations made in the same script.

They show a little difference in bytes, but the one based on user_beancounters is always +-100kb bigger than the vzlist -o mode...

can't figure out why..

vzmemcheck shows a value that is closer to the vzlist mode, but lower...
