Subject: Re: [vzctl] exec early script at start
Posted by Yoann Moulin on Thu, 17 Jan 2008 16:07:36 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

> I'm not very familiar with this syntaxes but I think it can be done > similarly :
>
> snprintf(buf, sizeof(buf), VPS_CONF_DIR "%d.%s", veid, > START_PREFIX);
> if (stat_file(buf)) {
> if (vps_exec_script(h, veid, res->fs.root, NULL, NULL, > buf, NULL, 0))
> {
> ret = VZ_ACTIONSCRIPT_ERROR;
> goto err;
> }
> }
>
> I'm investigate more into the code, and refresh some C knowledge to > understand this

it's not possible to use vps_exec_script due to the script is execute inside the VE and the script I want to execute is here to prepare the root environnement by removing the old dir, populate the new dir and configure services with cfengine tools.

Yoann