Hello,

I did a search and couldn't find anything related to the title, so I thought I would start one.

I currently have an OPENVZ server which I setup about 8 months ago. It has been running fantastic. However, I am now concerned about upgrading key areas such as the kernel and other tools associated with OpenVZ. I'd like to know what I need to do or where I can go to find out how to upgrade my current OpenVZ Kernel and base installation such as vzctl.

yum update openvz

Is this correct?

I'm on a CentOS server.

Thanks!
