Hie !

I am working on a grid operating system. Amongst other things, we are planning to perform process checkpointing in this. Amongst other tools which shall be developed/used for checkpointing, we have decided to also use OpenVZ. I need to write some C code for making calls into OpenVZ to create containers, checkpoint and migrate them.
I also need to assign various parameters to the containers.
I thought of using libvzctl for the same. However I could not find any documentation on it or the source code for the same.
Can you kindly help ?

We shall be using linux kernel >= 2.6.24

Thanks !

Cheers,
Surbhi.
