Thanks to other posts in this forum I found out that klogd was not running inside the VPS.

I was not able to get klogd working inside the VPS. "/etc/init.d/klogd start" timed out with "failed" after some minutes. I did not investigate the problem. Instead I uninstalled klogd and sysklogd packages and installed syslog-ng instead.

Without any additional work iptables log entries go to kern.log. Problem solved.
