I have a Centos 6_X64 openvz server with several containers and I have the following issue:
I have 3 public ips, 1 for the host and 2 for containers, connecting to the containers via the appropriate ip addresses works fine(Webmin/ssh/apache and so forth), however when I use something like plex or rtorrent on one of the containers it always reports the host's ip address as opposed to using its own address(the container's public ip). Does anyone have any idea what i may be doing incorrectly.
