I'm sorry to have to ask, I know the information is out there somewhere but I've been researching & testing for 2 days and I can't seem to find a definitive answer.. (I'm well versed in Hypervisors but a complete n0ob to Containers)..

Is it possible?

To access PCIe add in cards (for instance using a PBX card for Asterix pbx)

I have 5SSDs & a 3 HDDs that I'd like to add to container and manage RAID within the container..

I'm using ProxMox and ideally I'd like to have my storage running in a container and have guest machines (KVM) access this storage.

Any feedback would be greatly appreciated..
