For those interested. I contacted the support team (Virtuozzo / OpenVZ) past Friday about this.

I received an email back from Denis V. Lunev (and Konstantin Khorenko in CC) that they pushed a fix to the 226 kernel. They stated that they hoped it will be available on previous Friday (didn't arrive unfortunately) or early this week. So hoping it will be released as soon as possible.

@khorenko; any news on this matter? Thank you and sorry for being impatient.
