Hello,

Please delete my account.
I tried to delte myself, but there seems to be no option. Furthmore it's not possible to disable auto-notification for PMs or to report spam PMs.

Please delete my account. Otherwise the only option to save myself from spam sent through this boards' messaging system is to report your emails as spam.

Sorry for the bad review. Please improve and keep up the good work!

To disable PM notifications:

- log in to the forum with your username and password
- click on "Control Panel" in the upper right menu
- choose "Account Settings" on the menu that appears
- scroll down to find settings such as "Private Message Notification", "Allow E-mail Messages", "Allow Private Messages", etc.

As to deleting your account, you'll have to wait for an admin to help you out. Might as well delete all your personal data (if you entered any in the first place) and forget about the account untill someone does as you wish.

I have disabled private messaging feature completely (as there is no way to moderate it). Sorry for the problem.
