Im a newb but I wanted to know if it was possible to go from a virtuozzo install to an OpenVZ install without an osreload, I currently dont have any VPS's up and running I would just rather not have to reload the box. Is it possible?

I believe it would just be a matter of you uninstalling virtuozzo utilities, installing openvz utilities, and customizing a new kernel.

I don't see why you would have to reload your OS but maybe I'm wrong?
