Does OpenVZ support FreeBSD on it? I been looking for a VZ or VMM other then vmware.... The load is just too hight using 73.9% of my CPU although it does not show it when I play a media or such I would like to know if OpenVZ on Slackware Linux would support a FreeBSD installation on it.

Thank you.

IMHO, no. From http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/OpenVZ: Quote:OpenVZ is an operating system-level virtualization technology based on the Linux kernel and operating system.
