Hi all,

i am using OpenVZ recently and i'm very happy with it.
One thing i didn't found it's the openvz's patches instead the packages or git tree with the whole kernel.
Where can i find the patches for 2.6.xx (e.g. 2.6.26) kernels?

Thanks in advance for your reply,

elmig

Hello,

2.6.26 kernel is in a testing state so it hasn't been released yet.

It will be possible to get *-combined.gz patch after release.

P.S. But you can get patched kernel from git and then diff it against "clear" kernel.
